ABOUT MYSELF

I'm Alemayehu Taweke — a backend-focused full-stack developer specializing in Django, Node.js, and scalable web applications. I design and build complete systems, from modern frontends using React and Next.js to reliable backend architectures, REST APIs, and asynchronous processing with Celery and Redis. My experience includes developing transaction monitoring platforms, distributed delivery systems, and enterprise management applications. I focus on performance, clean architecture, and building systems that are reliable, scalable, and ready for real-world use.
